

GERT WABEKE

A few introductory words; Information technology engineering (BSc) and business administration (MScBA) as back ground led to a number of functions within Philips, BSO/Origin and for the past 16 years Royal Dutch KPN. In the current position within the corporate security department of KPN, he has responsibility for measures concerning compliance to national regulation. The specialized department within his responsibility performs a liaison function to the government, dealing with formalized investigation requests, i.e. interception and information retrieval. He also deals with all questions which impact the privacy of their customers based on national law. In addition, the activities which are based on criminal law prosecution, new and developing regulatory questions with regard to cybercrime topics are addressed. An example in this respect is the cooperation between ISP's in the Netherlands and the regulator to help customers whose computers are possibly infected and high jacked onto a "botnet".
