

Peter MacAvock

Biographical Data

Peter MacAvock is the Executive Director of the DVB Project Office, responsible for the team charged with the day-to-day running of the DVB Project. He is an Irish national living and working in Switzerland.

Involved in DVB since it was founded in 1993, Peter MacAvock has been responsible for shaping, documenting and demonstrating the suite of standards that form the basis of DVB systems. He is the principle standards co-ordinator for the project, is secretary to the DVB's Steering Board and Technical Module and has been involved in a number of the key technical sub-groups. He has also managed European collaborative projects working in the area of DVB.