

João Beleza Vaz

João Beleza Vaz holds a degree in Naval Military Sciences. As an officer in the Portuguese Navy, he held several commissions, served in the Directorate of Communications and Information Systems at the General Staff and in the Navy's Data Communications and Cipher Centre. Specialising in Navy Communications, he attended the Senior Officer Promotion Course at Instituto de Estudos Superiores Militares (Portuguese Joint Command and Staff College) and, in the technical area, a range of courses on networks and in the area of satellite communications systems. João was responsible for the communications architecture of several military missions and manager of military satellite communications. He has taken part in a series of international forums.