

Vítor Manuel Lourosa Rabuge

Vítor Manuel Lourosa Rabuge is trained in engineering and management for executives. He is 47 years old. After working in areas such as telemedicine and in the energy sector, he moved to communications regulation in 1998.

At ANACOM, where he has always had the opportunity to lead teams of people, his work in the area of spectrum monitoring and control stands out, both nationally and internationally, with emphasis on the work carried out at ITU-R, at the WGFM and in cooperation with Portuguese-speaking countries.

.