

Álvaro M. Ferro

He holds a Master's degree in Political Science, a Bachelor's degree in Design, and has additional management training. He has worked in various organisations as a product manager, particularly in the field of marketing and distribution of electronic games, and in the management of information systems projects.

He joined ANACOM in 2000 and participated in and managed several projects until 2011. At that time, he was appointed Quality Manager of ANACOM's Information Systems area, in charge of implementing new methods for measuring the quality and performance of information systems. In 2020, he took over the management of ANACOM's Internal Auditing Office.

In 2023, he was appointed Compliance Officer of ANACOM, under the General Regime for the Prevention of Corruption (RGPC), in an accumulation of functions.